

TRADEWAVE TT COMPANY

INDEMNITY RISK ASSURANCE

This is to formally notify you that all copy trading activities linked to your account have been temporarily suspended with immediate effect. This action was automatically triggered by our insurance protocol and risk management system. Our analytics platform has flagged a high-risk position initiated by the trader you are currently copying. The trade involves an opening value of TTD 600,000.00, with a potential loss probability of 87.59% under adverse market conditions. This assessment was generated by the automated risk system active through your insurance enrollment. Due to the elevated risk and exposure, continuing in this trading stream could lead to unacceptable volatility and potential capital loss. As per your insurance policy and our obligation to safeguard client assets, we strongly recommend that you immediately withdraw from this trading stream. Please note that a clearance charge is required to process the withdrawal and secure your remaining capital.
