

TRADEWAVE IT COMPANY

HFTs Engagement

This is to confirm that a billing has been applied to your account under the Automated Continuous Trading Fee classification. This fee is applied to users whose trading strategies involve continuous or high-frequency automation, including use of bots, EAs, or direct API access. It reflects the operational load, infrastructure usage, and risk monitoring associated with sustained automated trade activity.

Your activity pattern aligns with this category, and as such, the platform's billing policies have been applied accordingly. For any clarification on how this fee is calculated or to receive a breakdown of the charge, our support team is available to assist you.
