

STREAM CONTINUITY FACILITATION

This notice serves to inform you that an immediate server transfer of your account has been initiated to optimize infrastructural performance, enhance operational continuity, and fortify security protocols. Consequently, all pre-configured automated activities are temporarily suspended and placed under your direct management until the completion of designated guided tasks and the settlement of the Continuity Facilitation Charge, with the amount to be provided separately. Compliance with these requirements is critical to reinstate all previous account setups, restore automated operations, re-enable participation in the trading stream, ensure continued profit generation, and maintain full security insurance coverage. Prompt attention to these measures will preserve account integrity, facilitate seamless operational restoration, and uphold strategic market positioning.
